A survey of available facilities and community needs will be completed in the coming year. Library In addition to library books on evaluating preschool options, library staff use 211, Child Care and Referral, SBParents.com, County schools' website and other resources to provide parents with information	options for working parents in or near the workplace.
3) Offer family literacy activities appropriate for families from diverse cultures and backgrounds in community-based settings such as public libraries.	Library Adult Literacy: Provides a "Families for Literacy" component that meets at local libraries with activities and education. We also have a collaboration with the local dual language school to provide poetry literacy activities in 2 -4th grade classes that include parent participation. Youth Services: Provides regular bi-lingual story times at four libraries and the bookmobile and at 30 local federal, state or private preschool classes. We also attend parent meetings at many local preschools to present literacy and library materials. Once a year, library staff partners with Healthy Start to provide a "Joy of Reading" workshop for parents and children. Attendance is always over 100:	Library We see a continuing need to reach the small family home care providers with literacy activities or materials. Healthy Start's family advocate program is a model that could be expanded to help in this area. Parks & Recreation Community Services: Currently there are no arts or dance classes offered in Spanish. The Department will advertise to solicit bi-lingual independent contractors for enrichment programs which can be offered at community centers.
